

ECE338

Lab #6: Create an SDK project

David Kirby

For Lab #6 we were tasked with taking what we had learned in Lab #5 about the Block Diagram and expand upon it. This involved implementing SDK (Software Development Kit) to import C code into our project. This will eventually allow us to transfer information between the PL side and the PS side.

